Pete Jackson and his team have helped EEG Utility Solutions amazingly over the past 2 years with first class training and training facilities. Keeping up to date training course and explaining any changes and the reason for the changes due to legislation or change in practice.

The training team was always willing to fit in training courses that suited the company and would visit our site to conduct the training saving the company time and money.

Pete Jackson's expertise in Confined Space and Water Jetting is second to none. Our operatives enjoyed the courses and always gave excellent feedback about Pete his courses and the training facilities.

The tutors are helpful and have a wealth of knowledge on the subjects they teach. They have time for each student and are happy to stop and answer any questions the students may have. All the courses come with qualification certificates and card which are sent promptly on completion of the course. The admin staff is always happy to take any queries you have and act upon them in a fast and efficient manner.

If you want real training that works and effective implementation – where you know you will get the results- use Pete Jackson and his team at Ace Safety Academy, a first-class trainer and a first-class training team.
